WASHINGTON, April 3.—The United States government today demanded the immediate recall of the Italian naval attaché, Admiral Alberto Lais, in connection with the attempted sabotage of 28 Italian ships in American waters.

Acting at the request of President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Cordell Hull sent a note to the Italian ambassador, Prince Don Acaño Colonna, stating that the chief executive had decided that the continued presence in this country of Admiral Lais would "no longer be agreeable to this government."

Note To Italy
In announcing this government's action, Hull, at his press conference, gave out the text of the note to the Italian ambassador which read as follows:

"Excellency: I have the honor to state that various facts and circumstances have come to the attention of the government of the United States connecting Admiral Alberto Lais, naval attaché of the Royal Italian Embassy, with commission by certain persons of acts in violation of the laws of the United States.

"The President has reached the conclusion that the continued presence of Admiral Lais as naval attaché of the embassy would no longer be agreeable to this government.

PA NEW OBSERVES

According to M. K. Gilliland, the frog croaked his first spring appearance. Out along the Ellwood road this week, he heard the first spring croak by the frog chorus.

Another evidence that spring is well on its way—the continual chorus of little chicks that can be heard at times at the post office. Thousands of baby chicks are shipped through the post office each spring, and they don't seem to appreciate that any violence is required while in the building.

Numerous New Castle property owners are nursing some sore muscles this week, as a result of the efforts to smooth down the front lawn with a heavy roller.

Cleanup work is noted on many properties in the city and suburban areas. Now is the time to begin the clean-up and paint-up campaigns.

On a sign in front of a downtown place of business yesterday a sign reading "roast pork" was to be noted.

Diplomatic Relations Are Somewhat Strained Over Ship Seizures By U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—With diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany and Italy strained almost to the breaking point, the state department today was busily engaged in drafting notes flatly rejecting the Italo-German demands for release of the 30 Axis ships and the crews which were seized by this government over the weekend.

The notes were being drafted by diplomatic and legal experts under the direction of Ray Atherton, chief of the western European division of the state department. They were expected to be presented to Secretary of State Cordell Hull for his approval during the day and may be delivered to the German and Italian embassies before midnight.

To Stand Pat.
Despite German threats of retaliation, including the arrest and brief detention of four American citizens in Berlin and reports that American property in Germany may be confiscated, the United States government intended to stand pat on its seizure of the ships and personnel of the German sailors for attempting to sabotage their vessels in American waters.

Lieut. Eakin Directs Battery F At Shelby

By JOHN RAIL
Special Correspondent
CAMP SHELBY, April 1.—Probably the youngest man ever to command a military unit representing New Castle is the responsibility being carried by a personable New Castleite, as an officer in the 190th Field Artillery.

Lieutenant Edward Eakin, son of Mrs. Margaret L. Eakin, of Court street, New Castle, who in civilian life is associated with the Pennsylvania Power Company, is one of two junior officers here at Shelby to have the distinction of performing the duties of battery commander.

With the absence of Captain George F. Mitchell, now on a tour of duty at Fort Sill, Okla., Lieut. Eakin is in complete charge supervising the artillery activities of the local soldiers.

Officially the reconnaissance officer of the battery, handling complete direction of the gun crews, Lieut.

Eakin's job keeps him in the field on the initial tactical maneuvers and firing problems. At present he is being well assisted by Sergeant James Krue who is acting reconnaissance officer.

When probed of what it felt like to be a C. O. (commanding officer), Lieut. Eakin responded, "Although this position of battery commander is a large order, I can more readily appreciate Captain Mitchell's responsibilities now that they are mine. I find the capacity decidedly more attractive than I first imagined. Commanding a battery certainly isn't a picnic, but the splendid spirit and wholehearted cooperation of our men rendered me as always shown to our skipper, Capt. Mitchell is quite an honor."

The lieutenant, although young in years, has been a soldier for quite a while. His military background is wealthy with a series of CMC routine courses and an active period with the former local cavalry troops.

Conviction Grows In Washington Sinister Radical Plot Foments Trouble

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Growing conviction among highest officials in Washington that a sinister radical plot to slow up rearmament is behind many strikes was revealed today, with the result that President Roosevelt may order drastic curative action in the near future.

Evidence that Communists and "fellow travelers" are fomenting strikes and slow downs which have paralyzed part of the program has been discussed by Mr. Roosevelt and his advisers, it was revealed on high authority.

Mr. Roosevelt, one of his important advisers said, will wait 10 days before "cracking down" in the hope that mediation can remedy the situation.

Some responsible defense officials, however, took the view that while ordinary labor disputes even of great magnitude can be settled by mediation only drastic governmental action can halt communistic activity.

School Tax Rate Is Set For Year

Remains At 17 1/4 Mills, Same As During Past Year—Budget $1,075,606

Meeting in the administration building Wednesday night, April 2, the New Castle School Board adopted the budget for 1941-42, and set the tax levy for the year. The levy remains the same as it was for 1939-40, 17 1/4 mills with the budget totalling $1,075,606.

The budget as adopted represents a lot of work up on the part of the budget committee. It is a budget peeled down to essentials there being practically nothing allowed for capital outlay and but a little for repairs. Of the $1,075,606 total, $748,468 goes for salaries and $187,448 for other expenses.

ROME, April 3.—Italian students demonstrated against Yugoslavia in the streets of Rome today and a heavy cordon of troops was stationed around the Yugoslav legation.

Italian authorities said they were watching the Yugoslavian situation with increasing attention but declared there was occasion for neither alarm or unjustified optimism.

They also said the anti-Yugoslavian demonstrations in Rome were carried out by small, private groups of youth and hence were "not worthy of attention."

Dewey Hopeful Basis For Definite Settlement Will Be Reached Soon

DETROIT, April 3.—"I am hopeful that before the day is over we will be working on a definite settlement of the Ford Dearborn strike," Federal Conciliator James F. Dewey asserted today in advance of second day meetings with UAW-CIO representatives who ordered the strike which closed the plant yesterday and brought bloody battling with injuries to 200.

Dewey talked for many hours yesterday and last night with UAW and Ford representatives. Some opinion was voiced outside the conference that the Ford men headed by Harry Mack, Dearborn sales agent, were not empowered to bind the company to any settlement agreement.

Authority To Act
Today Dewey indicated that he believed the company representatives were working with complete authority.

"They were undoubtedly delegated to work this thing out," he said.

He said also that while the strike had its problems growing out of new demands which were injected into it, he felt certain that the concessions asked of each side would be won in the continued negotiations (Continued On Page Two)

City Board No. 1 Names Selectees

Men To Be Inducted Into Army On April 9 Are Announced, With Replacements

New Castle draft board number one today announced the names of eight men who have been ordered to report at 7 a. m. Wednesday April 9, for induction into military service.

At the same time eight alternates were announced out of which will come replacements of men who for any reason might be rejected in Pittsburgh.

The men will be sent from New Castle to the Old Postoffice building in Pittsburgh, there to be assigned to various camps. Of the eight men, all reside in New Castle with the exception of Jack Thomas Ritey whose residence is given as 8150 Craig street, Clairton, Pa.

The other seven men of the list follow:
Lester Stanford Levine, 207 Edison avenue.
Harry Marion Karski, 24 Cliff street.
Samuel Eugene Wray, 602 Sumner avenue.
Clyde Meyers Campbell, 705 South Ray street.
Arthur Arthur Winans, 22 West Falls street.
Samuel Michael Lombardo, 26 South Beaver street.
James Hugh Greene, 716 Chestnut street.

Alternates
The alternates named for the above group follow:
Florinto Monaco, 111 North Lee avenue.
Albert Myron Gormley, 505 South Ray street.
Edgar Leroy Shor, 420 Norwood avenue.
Paul Bennett Twaddle, 114 Richelieu avenue.
Jack Thomas Griffith, 126 Richelieu avenue.
Jack Joffrey Brown, 118 North Mulberry street.
Stanley John Mackiewicz, 120 West Garfield avenue.
Joseph Angelo De Lillo, 505 Canyon street.

Two replacements will also report on April 9, the two being called to replace two who failed the examination in Pittsburgh. The two are William Henry Williams, 1126 Croton avenue, and James Vincent Laless, 314 Vine street. Their alternates are Harold K. Patterson, 224 Hillcrest avenue, and John Mrozek, 6 Walter street.

But, it was privately forecast by a well-informed source, the 400,000 idle bituminous miners in 12 states will be back at work digging coal by next week.

If a break in the deadlock does not come by midnight tonight the federal government is expected to make a move that will force a settlement.

The 48-hour extension obtained on Tuesday by Dr. John R. Steelman, director of the United States conciliation service and President Roosevelt's representative on the scene, expires at midnight.

Hopes For Agreement
Dr. Steelman persisted in his belief that operators and miners can soon reach an agreement. When they recessed shortly after midnight until 11 o'clock this morning, Steelman announced they are "cautiously trying to come to an agreement" and that "some progress" has been made.

Spokesman for the operators, Charles O'Neill, backed this viewpoint by saying he "hoped an agreement could be reached shortly."

Lewis, however, expressed no such optimism. The bushy-browed president of the United Mine Workers coldly asserted:

"The 400,000 miners are going back to work when their representatives are successful in negotiating a contract.

No contract, no work—that is Lewis' attitude.

Lewis took time out from the soft coal negotiations to tell 300 cheering delegates to an anthracite wage scale convention that the bituminous battle was going to be settled across the conference table—or nowhere else.

He bluntly declared he would oppose any move to submit the soft coal dispute to the new national labor mediation board.

Berlin Says Yugoslav Crisis Becomes Graver

BERLIN, April 3.—The German-Yugoslav crisis is growing "gloomier," official German quarters frankly admitted today.

At the same time they accused the Belgrade government of keeping the Yugoslav people in the dark regarding the "gravity of events" and proclaimed:

"Our tolerance will come to an end."

A spokesman for the propaganda ministry said orders had been sent to all German diplomatic and consular representatives in Yugoslavia to return home. Sole exception was the military attaché and charge d'affaires who will remain in Belgrade for the time being at least.

The spokesman said this was merely a precautionary measure and did not signify an immediate diplomatic break between Berlin and Belgrade.

No Optimism.
But Wilhelmstrasse quarters, in tones of grim foreboding, said there was no ground for optimism and that anti-German developments in Yugoslavia were growing "out of bounds."

These same quarters also asserted the Yugoslav minister in Berlin (Continued On Page Two)

BUDAPEST, April 3.—Depressed over Hungary's future, Premier Count Paul Teleki committed suicide early today after a nightlong cabinet session.

An official announcement issued late this afternoon said that Teleki had shot and killed himself.

Prior to this announcement, Hungary and the world had been led to believe that Teleki died of a heart attack. He was 62.

Teleki was the second Hungarian statesman to die within a few weeks under tragic if not mysterious circumstances. Foreign Minister Count Stephen Csaky died on January 26, presumably from food poisoning.

Both men were instrumental in signing the Tripartite Axis agreement for Hungary.

NEW YORK, April 3.—John L. Lewis, key figure in the soft coal crisis, maintained a poker player's demeanor today as negotiations between operators and miners for a new wage contract continued in a deadlock.

But, it was privately forecast by a well-informed source, the 400,000 idle bituminous miners in 12 states will be back at work digging coal by next week.

German Legation Staff In Belgrade Is Ordered Home

Virtually Entire Staff To Leave—Adds To Fears Of War Outbreak

GERMANY ASSERTS MOVE PRECAUTIONARY

BELGRADE, April 3.—Virtually the entire staff of the German legation in Belgrade was ordered to return home today, giving rise to new fears that war between Yugoslavia and Germany can scarcely be avoided.

German sources in Belgrade declared that members of the legation staff with the exception of the Nazi military attaché and charge d'affaires received instructions from Berlin to leave Belgrade today.

Similar instructions were sent to the staffs of all German consulates in Yugoslavia, these quarters said.

In Berlin a spokesman for the propaganda ministry confirmed that all German diplomatic and consular representatives in Yugoslavia had been ordered home, excepting the military attaché and charge d'affaires.

Precautionary Measure
The German spokesman said the action represented merely a precautionary measure and did not signify a break in German-Yugoslav diplomatic relations.

There was no explanation of the sudden German order to its diplomatic and consular representatives, but Belgrade quarters openly expressed fears that it represented a move in preparation for war.

Germany's bombshell hit Belgrade amid reports that proposals for Italian mediation efforts had proved futile.

Another element of danger was injected into the crisis by the sinking of Yugoslavia's two most modern steamers in the Adriatic Sea by mines.

The sunken vessels were the 1,293-ton Karajordjevic and the 1,726-ton (Continued On Page Two) not to sign anything, in Moscow or anywhere. He had confidential reports from the Japanese envoy in London advising caution in all undertakings.

Much of the Axis plan hinged upon Matsuoka obtaining a non-aggression pledge from Stalin.

Disquieting Information

That failed, and a counter-proposal was discussed for full Japanese adherence to the Axis with Russia joining with Japan in dual action in the Pacific. Much disquieting information, however, was said to have been given Matsuoka in Moscow regarding Russia's intentions toward Japan.

Again Matsuoka was in communication with the best informed quarters in London, and again he was advised to be cautious.

In all events, the Stalin-Matsuoka conference was fruitless. In a face-saving gesture, Matsuoka announced he must confer with Berlin and Rome before deciding on any Russian tie-up.

But the Berlin and Rome interviews were "washouts," my informant said.

Boastful German and Italian announcements speaking broadly of a "full understanding" and guarded Japanese handouts affirming friendship are anticipated.

In fact, it was said, the real result of his trip will be a tremendous important shift in the world balance of power, Matsuoka's presence in Europe during a time of impressive Italian land and naval defeats and of Germany's failure in Yugoslavia upset a great many carefully laid plans, it was said.

The net result, London sources feel, is that the blitz war, for the present at least, will be localized in the continent of Europe.

Yugoslavian officials made no attempt to blame any nation for sowing the mines.

Situation Dangerous

As the situation grew increasingly dangerous the government, which held a special meeting last night and scheduled another for today, struggled to unify the nation in preparation for what may come.

A delegate sent by Croat Leader Vladimir Macek to confer with Premier Gen. Dusan Simovic was scheduled to return to Agram tonight to report to Macek on results of negotiations in Belgrade.

Some newspapers interpreted these negotiations as successful, indicating that Macek and the Croats may give full cooperation to the Simovic regime.

It was reported possible that the new Simovic government would make a declaration on foreign policy after its meeting this afternoon. At that time it may make a final statement with regard to the Axis alliance.

Signed by former Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic and former Foreign Minister Alexander Cincar-Marcovic.

Prospects for peace with Germany dwindled rapidly—partly as a result of the continuing Nazi anti-Yugoslavian radio and press campaign.

German radio stations still accused "extremist Serbians" of excesses against Germans in Yugoslavia, despite vehement denials of these charges in Belgrade.

An indication that prospects of Premier Mussolini's intervention on behalf of peace had dimmed was seen when the Italian minister, Giorgio Mameli, left the Belgrade foreign office after an hour's conference. Later the cabinet held its extraordinary emergency meeting adjourning after more than two hours of discussion without issuing any communiqué.

Assert Hitler To Attack

Belgrade, April 3.—Yugoslavia again came within a hair's breadth of war today as virtually the entire German legation staff was recalled to Berlin and everything shaped up for a Nazi "blitz" onslaught.

In sharp contrast to yesterday's comparatively hopeful outlook, the situation today was exceedingly grave.

One reliable diplomatic source said that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, after consultation with his military general staff, had definitely decided to attack in the Balkans on the grounds of Yugoslavia's alleged "aggression" against Albania.

This means, the informant said, that Germany will formally invoke the military aid clauses of the tripartite pact signatories—notably Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary, if these comply, the whole of southeastern Europe will be aflame.

Many of the ponds around the county are still coated heavily with ice. Temperature has not been sufficiently hot during the day to make much impression upon the heavy ice.

With the advent of nicer weather motorists are beginning to travel in larger numbers. It would seem. Pa. News noted cars from Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, West Virginia, Georgia and Kansas, all parked in one lot on South street near Mercer, this morning. Incidentally, Minnesota seems to have two different sets of plates. A light pickup truck bore a Minnesota plate, which was a dark, brick red, with black letters; while a passenger car bore a license plate with aluminum background and black letters. Both bore 1941 dates.

The meeting was one provided by the school code and lasted but a little while. President C. L. Shira named Dr. Arthur B. Foster and Griff Thomas as the board members to the city recreational board.

U. S. CONCILIATOR SEEKS TO ADJUST FORD PLANT STRIKE

and a settlement basis agreed upon. Dewey began winning concessions almost as soon as he arrived in Detroit, picking up the mediation efforts at the point to which they had been brought by Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner.

The governor had persuaded the union to cut its mass picketing to a nominal gesture at the plant gates and to remove the barricades of automobiles and planes which had barred even police cars from the area.

Plant Not Reopened

From the company, the governor won a promise not to try to reopen the plant. Such a move, the governor felt, would lead to additional violence and yesterday's bloody battling had already brought injuries to 200 persons.

From that point on Dewey carried the concessions to the point of winning from the union an agreement to allow company payroll men, time-keepers and administrative workers to enter the plant and the company agreed to send representatives to talk peace.

Previously, the company had asserted through Harry Bennett, its personnel director, that it would not treat any peace offer while its administrative staff could not enter the plant and while strikers maintained their barricades.

That brought the situation today to the point where an armed truce was in effect.

No Trouble Today

There were no outward manifestations of trouble today except some confusion at the gates when the administrative employees arrived but they were finally admitted.

Just one bit of violence was reported—a worker who evidently hadn't heard that there was a strike and that the plant was closed tried to walk in gate four although dissuaded by both police and company service men. He was ready and willing to fight them and the pickets did. When he got into the plant it was the emergency hospital and not his job that claimed him.

Dewey's first conference was slated for 11 a. m. with the management representatives and he indicated that he had "given them something to sleep on" which he hoped would bring a favorable action. The conference with the UAW men was set for 1 p. m.

Indicating the peace which has come to the plant area since late yesterday, a Dearborn special police force of 300, deputized yesterday, was disbanded this morning.

Police duty at the plant was turned over to state police who were held in reserve yesterday when the situation appeared to be headed for more violence.

All through the night Dewey with state mediators and Eli Oliver of the office of production management in Washington, sat alternately with UAW and Ford representatives, the latter headed by Charles Mack, Dearborn sales agent, without gaining any apparent ground for a solid peace.

The union had a five-point program of demands which included a ten cents an hour increase, abolition of the company's service department, establishment of strict seniority, recognition of shop stewards and reinstatement of all workers discharged because of union affiliation and against that was the company's charges the union was "communistic controlled" and engaging in "terroristic acts."

ITALO-GERMAN DEMANDS WILL MEET REJECTION

waters constituted a violation of this country's domestic laws and made those sailors responsible liable to criminal prosecution.

Government legal experts pointed out that under the 1917 Espionage Act, it is unlawful for the owners, the captain or the crew of any vessel in American territorial waters to "willfully cause or permit the destruction or injury of such vessel."

In some quarters, it was felt that violation of this law makes the vessel subject to seizure and forfeiture to the United States.

Disposition Not Determined.

However, the government has not yet reached any decision concerning final disposition of the seized ships. Pending a decision on this question, it was decided to order the local coastguard authorities to haul down the American flag which coast-guardsmen had hoisted on the German freighter Arauca when that ship was seized at Port Everglades, Fla.

Removal of the flag was one of the demands made by the German embassy on its note of protest to the state department.

German Charge D'Affaires Hans

Thomsen also demanded immediate release of the crews and the two German vessels; permission for the German sailors to remain aboard their ships and "unreserved" restoration to the ships of the rights recognized under international law.

Italian Ambassador Prince Don Ascanio Calonna made similar demands in his note of protest, although the Italian embassy did not join the German embassy in releasing its communication to the press.

In second notes delivered to the state department yesterday, both the German and Italian embassies protested vigorously against imprisonment of the crews.

While strong retaliatory action was anticipated from both Berlin and Rome, American officials still were inclined to doubt that either Germany or Italy would go so far as to sever diplomatic relations with the United States. It was felt that the Axis powers place such importance on the presence of their military and naval observers in this country that they will be loath to break off relations.

WAR'S EFFECT ON LUXURIES

BUYING habits of the American people were affected by the first year of the European war mainly in luxury items, a survey by the United States Tariff Commission shows. Fortunately the raw materials which are much more important to the nation as a whole than manufactured goods from Europe originate for the greater part outside all war zones.

Imports hardest hit were hyacinth and tulip bulbs, cut diamonds, linen tablecloths and Roquefort cheese. Prices of small cut diamonds have increased since the occupation of Belgium and the Netherlands, but Tariff Commission officials forecast an increased importation of rough diamonds, chiefly from South Africa, to be cut in this country. As to industrial diamonds, the Bureau of Mines states that this country has sufficient for one year of national defense needs. Imports of diamonds, rubies, sapphires and amethysts for precision instruments increased from 44,000,000 stones in 1939 to over 80,000,000 in 1940.

Imports of linen damask from Czechoslovakia, the United Kingdom and the Soviet Union have been largely cut off by the war. The Irish linen industry, specializing in handkerchiefs, has been unable to obtain enough supplies of raw flax from the Baltic countries. The supply of such delicacies as green olives, Italian cheese and anchovies is threatened by the curtailment of Mediterranean trade, although in some cases large supplies were rushed here before hostilities commenced. No cork shortage looms unless American ships quit Portugal.

American watchmakers, recalling difficulties of the last war, have stocked up on Swiss watch parts, and in the closing months of 1940 there was considerable transportation of watch jewels and parts by trans-Atlantic clipper planes. In no commodity has there been crisis comparable to the dyestuffs famine of the previous war.

Shortage in flowering bulbs is expected to become apparent in American gardens this spring. Last fall only 44,000 hyacinth bulbs were imported from the Netherlands for the 1941 season, compared with normal imports of 13,000,000 to 17,000,000. In time hyacinth bulbs could be produced in this country on a large scale, but salable bulbs do not mature in less than four to six years.

American youngsters will receive with equanimity the news that spinach seed has trebled in price because of a shortage for the 1940-41 planting season. The United States obtains most of its spinach seed from the Netherlands. Predictions are, however, that adequate quantities can be grown in the West once the industry gets under way.

KNUDSEN'S CONFIDENCE

Undeniably William S. Knudsen is a comforting man to have in charge of America's defense production, now so vital an element in the resolving of this world's woes. He exudes confidence—a confidence that is the more convincing because of Knudsen's long experience as an industrialist.

When the Senate was considering the $7,000,000,000 appropriation, Knudsen was one of those called to testify about America's ability to apply that much money to production in so short a time.

"There is doubt in people's minds as to whether we could produce that many man-hours in America within a given time," he said. "But we have such great reserve supplies to draw upon, and such great experience behind us, it is only the learning and the tooling period we have to go through."

"Once we surmount that, there isn't any question that we can make twice as much as anybody else can make, and I say that advisedly. I have been in the countries over there. I have seen the plants. I have operated plants over there. And when it comes to getting tooling up after we do that over here, you won't have to be concerned about the output. I am quite sure."

"I do not want to be funny, but $7,000,000,000 when you transfer it into man-hours, and when you look at the number of people you have to work is not so much. I have handled $1,800,000,000 a year in one firm. If you look at the country and see how you spread it out, it does not amount to much—I mean quantitatively."

NECKLESS BOTTLES

Extensive conversation and some little real news about "bottle-necks" obstructing the defense industries should not obscure the fact that the United States is today far better prepared to make a complete defense effort than it was in 1917-18. A great deal has been printed about synthetic materials, chemicals and substitute products that were unknown or unavailable in the last war. Less has been said about the great improvement in the nation's raw material situation.

The current report on potash production in 1940 illustrates a case in point. In the last war the country had no real supply of potash. It had been for years dependent mainly on the Stassfurt and other German deposits. The expedients resorted to in 1918, such as the recovery of potash from seaweed and from cement mills and blast furnace slag—to say nothing of the search for potash in remote lakes or sinks of the Great Basin region of the West, were well-nigh acts of desperation.

In 1940 the United States produced from deep deposits discovered after the war 658,249 tons of refined potash salts, a gain of 20 per cent over 1939. The deposits have hardly been touched. They have not been really explored in fact. They were found by oil drillers. Which recalls that although the Allies in 1918 "floated to victory on a sea of oil," the known reserves of petroleum in this country were then so small that there was lively fear that the war effort could not get enough oil.

Dr. Garfield's hated "heatless Mondays" were partly inspired by fear of oil shortage. Today there is enough known oil in the East Texas field alone to whip a half-dozen Hitlers. Similar stories could be written of other raw materials, where the problem is still one of trying not to swamp the market, or of getting more days of work per year for the workers.

America is awakening to the fact that if strikes are permitted to continue, this country's preparedness effort will strike out.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

ISOLATION AS PUNISHMENT

Much advice to parents is from those who think in terms of a school group. Discipline in the nursery school or kindergarten or elementary grade is relatively easy by means of isolation of the child who offends the group. Curiously enough most such advisers fail to see how different the home is from the schoolroom. In the average home there are not children to be isolated from. Usually it merely means sending the child to his room away from the annoyed parent. That, indeed, may prove a pleasure to the child. While isolated he is strongly inclined to get into some added mischief seeming to deserve further punishment. Then how will isolation be effective? A mother writes of her boy 3½:

"I have tried making him sit in his room. One day while there for punishment he tore the pages from his favorite story book."

Sit Doing Nothing

A wiser and more practical means of punishment of the child under eight or ten is assignment to sit doing nothing, for a definite period of time, at a certain place in the room where he all the while is clearly seen by the punisher. Of course the child must stay in the assigned place until the punishment is over. Early teach him the meaning of "No." Without it all punishment becomes a mockery and emotional torment for every one concerned.

If isolation works I'm for it, but I want first to be sure it really works. No punishment can merely fail. When it fails to attain its purpose it does more: it creates resentment, builds up barriers between child and parent and even renders rebellious and disregard for constituted authority.

No Indeterminate Sentence

Whether you sentence your child to sit in a certain place or to go to his room, don't, if you wish to get results, tell him to stay there until he can be good or until you say, "Now you may go"—as generally is advised. No indeterminate sentence for children. Always state how long the punishment must last. Then he has no inducement to plead or argue or play upon your feelings. Accordingly he soon learns to face his punishment stoically and to profit from it.

To Punish or Not to Punish: When and How? is the title of one of 15 pamphlets I have written on the baby and young child, being popular presentation of my university lectures to parents of pre-school children. A list of these pamphlets and information on how to get them may be had by writing to me at 235 E. 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Should we always aim to suit the punishment of the child to his offense?

A. No; some efforts to do so prove absurd. The important thing is that the punishment shall render reputation of the offense less likely to occur.

The World and the Mud Puddles

IN THE INTEREST OF WHOM?

Proponents as well as opponents of aid to Britain have asked that steps be taken to find out England's specific war aims. What is meant, of course, are her post-war aims, for her war aim is clear enough—the defeat of Germany. Since wars, revolutions and economic conflicts in Europe have ever disturbed this nation's security, it is proper that the United States should ask to know the terms which a victorious Britain would impose. It is the settlement following war which will largely determine just how durable the period of peace will be.

It is acknowledged by most observers that without the support of the United States, Britain's chances of victory are poor indeed. But strengthened by this country's resources and mechanical power, England is not constituted more than Germany can match in the long run.

Hence America's aid, or lack of it, will prove decisive. America has decided to give aid, but so far has shrunk from the conclusions of this step—that it is this nation which is in a position to tell Britain what her war aims should be. If she wants our help, she shall have contributed little to settling peace if we simply make possible a victory which will be followed by the typically imperialistic post-war settlement.

We should, in a word, attach strings to our aid as security to ourselves, for in the last resort it is not Britain's interest, but America's interest which justified aiding that embattled nation. If we choose to dictate the outcome of the war, we should dictate also the terms of the peace, and stipulate our terms in advance. Rather than looking to Britain, it is we ourselves who should supply a statement of the aims and conditions we believe will best assure peace in a post-war world.

But leave making the "World safe for Democracy" out of the question. Do not attempt to police the Earth. It cannot be done.

Bible Thought For Today

And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after; and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you.—St. Luke 12:29-31.

In Trenton, New Jersey, the bottom fell out of a taxi and the passenger had to run half a block before the driver halted the cab. A railroad locomotive was stolen in Wisconsin and an Illinois farmer reported the loss of his barn-burner. In Kokomo, Indiana, a farmer bought a pair of lightning rods and walked out of the hardware store with them on his shoulders during an electrical storm. You guessed the answer. A Cleveland cabinet maker saved his thumb off in a buzz-saw. He was laid up six weeks and when he returned to work was explaining to fellow workers just how the accident occurred. In demonstrating he sawed the thumb off of his other hand. An Indiana school boy got too close to a mule, got kicked and went to the hospital with a broken leg. When he got out of the hospital he sought to even the score by working the mule over with an axe handle. The mule kicked him again and broke the other leg.

Question: If my radio is on and guests arrive, should it be turned off or low? Don't you think it is bad taste for a host or a hostess to say, "I don't want to miss this program" and then, disregarding their guests turn on the radio? It has frequently happened to me, and I resent it.—C. C.

Answer: It is, indeed, annoying to arrive at a friend's house for a talk, only to discover that you must sit in stony silence and listen to something in which you have no interest. Of course, we all have our pet radio programs which we are loath to miss. But, unless we definitely know that our guests are as interested as we, the radio should remain silent while we greet our visitors who, no doubt, have come to hear about us and not to listen to far-off voices which they might just as well have done at home. After the "ice has been broken" and conversation is at a lull the question of turning on the radio may then be brought up.

Question: Are hats worn with dinner clothes? I am soon to wear a dinner dress and do not know for sure whether I should go bareheaded or not?—Tessie.

Answer: You may go bareheaded (most women do) or wear an evening hat with your dinner dress. Either is correct. Of course, an ordinary "day" hat would be entirely out of place.

Talk Of Ireland As American State
Canada Wants Its Own Independence
Fire In Bilious Position Right Now

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Canada, as I've had previous occasion to remark, doesn't want to be United States-ized, no matter what happens to the British empire. If the worst happens to the empire, it wants to be an independent Canada. It wants to be allied with us, thinks it would feel pretty safe with the Atlantic to its eastward and the Pacific westward, and of course it knows that Uncle Sam would go the limit in its defense even if it were to be attacked from either of these directions.

Australia and New Zealand, as also previously observed, would be more anxiously situated, on account of Japan. They might feel an inclination to become something like dominions of ours. They'd want to be strictly self-governing, though, not mere states.

But, to take up a suggestion that hasn't been much hinted at before—How about Ireland—or Eire—to give it its new, or original, name? Ireland's in a mighty bilious position just now.

It had an awful time for centuries under what it considered the English yoke before finally tearing from under said yoke and starting to go it nationally alone. It's understandable that President de Valera balks at more or less re-emerging his country with the one responsible for the "bloody law" against the wearers of the green. That's what he evidently thinks it would amount to if he were to turn over to the British the Irish coastal bases that unquestionably they vitally need to combat German war activities in waters adjacent to the Emerald Isle. And furthermore should he do so, abandoning Irish neutrality in effect, it's a cinch that the Nazis would begin bombing his little republic ad lib.

Staying Neutral
Yet, on the other hand, suppose Eire does stay neutral. Staying neutral is no protection against invasion by the Germans, whenever they deem would-be neutral soil and nearby seas desirable to them, from which to operate against John Bull's own island.

And Eire, as a springboard, is far more desirable to Herr Hitler at present. He must see it as at least as valuable to him as Holland, Belgium, France's Channel coast, Denmark or Norway—maybe more so. In fact, he actually has bombed Irish ports a bit already. Possibly (Continued On Page Five)

Two Appointments

WASHINGTON, April 3. IT is true that the international situation is such as to absorb far more than the usual time, energy and thought of the President. Nevertheless, the normal functions of the Government must receive Presidential attention if the whole machinery is not further to deteriorate and disintegrate.

EVEN before the great New Deal expansion of the Federal machine, the routine Presidential duties were considered all any man could adequately perform. This has been the main argument of those who have urged Mr. Roosevelt to fix upon a responsible head for the defense effort and delegate to him real power instead of retaining it all in his own hands, thus burdening himself with so vast an amount of unnecessary detail that he has to neglect other matters of importance.

THERE are today a number of things pressing hard upon him not connected with defense but nonetheless of considerable importance. This does not take into consideration a financial program for taxes and retrenchment upon which defense must rest if it is to be sound but to which slight thought seems to have been given. The purpose here is again to call attention to two major appointments now hanging fire and which would appear to call for the best he has in judgment. One, of course, is to the Supreme Court to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Justice McReynolds; the other is a chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission to fill the place of Mr. Jerome Frank.

SO far as the latter is concerned, there is an opportunity for Mr. Roosevelt to make a selection that will stimulate production, encourage industry and promote national unity. And there is equal opportunity for him to make a selection which will do the reverse. One of the basic reasons for unrest in the country today is the belief that the New Dealers are using the war crisis to continue their radical efforts to bring about a socialistic state which will end the system of free enterprise. Certainly the tremendous mass of SEC red tape, together with the other difficulties which it places in the way of providing new and needed capital for small industry, tends to discourage and restrict expansion and production.

IT ought to be possible, through a new chairman, and without sacrificing any fundamental principle or naming a reactionary, to broaden the SEC's point of view, cut away the red tap and end narrow and needless depressive interpretation of the law. However, none of the names mentioned in connection with the chairmanship holds out promise of that kind of man. Nor do they indicate that Mr. Roosevelt has been searching for one. On the contrary, there is ample ground for fear that the unreasoning hostility and punitive attitude of the left-wing New Dealers toward business in general and the utilities in particular will be reflected in the President's choice.

AS to the Supreme Court vacancy, the two names from which it is considered most likely the President will choose still are those of Attorney General Jackson and Senator Byrnes, of South Carolina. Mr. Jackson, of course, is one of the outstanding anti-business New Dealers. He is personally closer to the President than Senator Byrnes, and the best informed opinion is that he will get the post. Particularly is this so since the President picked him as one of his companions on his present vacation. The suggestion that he does not want to go on the bench, of course, is absurd. However, Mr. (Continued On Page Five)

1837—John Burroughs, poet and writer on natural history, near Roxbury, N. Y. He became the successor of Thoreau as a popular essayist on plants and animals. Among his principal books are "Locusts and Wild Honey" and "Ways of Nature."

1861—Reginald DeKoven, musical composer and conductor, at Middletown, Conn. He was the founder and conductor of the Washington Symphony Orchestra and a fertile composer of comic operas. The most successful of which was "Robin Hood."

Air Power In Naval Battle Revealed By Big British Victory

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIG
U. S. Marine Corps, Retired
(Written Especially for International News Service)

Most interesting aspect to Americans of the British-Italian Mediterranean sea battle of the week-end was its complete vindication of the U. S. navy's conception of the application of air power to sea warfare—an air arm that is an integral part of the fleet with air-planes as principal reservoirs of air power.

Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham's eastern Mediterranean fleet was organized on this principle. It had at least two air-planes on board. The Italian navy, organized independently of Mussolini's army and navy, it employs land-based aircraft exclusively for air operations over the Mediterranean. It has no air-planes on board.

Principal items that add up to make for air-planes efficiency in sea war are bombing and scouting. In the bombing division, British planes outscored their Axis opponents by disabling a 35,000-ton battleship against a light cruiser claimed hit by German dive bombers.

All-Important Item
In the all-important item of action as eyes and ears for the surface fleet, the margin of superiority of the R. A. F. flyers was even greater. In all accounts of the Mediterranean sea battle, an outstanding and startling fact is the complete blindness of the Fascist fleet and Admiral Cunningham's exact knowledge of the situation at all times.

Late accounts of the sea battle compared and cross-analyzed yield a fascinating picture of ultra-modern sea war. First contact of opposing forces was shortly before noon Thursday, when a scouting British plane noted a strong Italian fleet off Sicily, steaming slowly eastward.

This was good scouting. Presumably the plane was from Crete, 500 miles away. Why Italian fighter planes did not pick the R. A. F. pilot off is a mystery.

The scouting plane laid the foundation for Italy's headache by raiding Crete and Alexandria. From Crete the British cruiser Orion started steaming westward to meet the Italian vessels, while at Alexandria the battleships of Admiral Cunningham's squadron hoisted anchor and got under way.

Two Italian battleships, half a dozen cruisers and numerous destroyers were sighted by the plane. The British admiral had four super-dreadnaughts, two air-planes carriers and a dozen smaller vessels. His orders to the Orion, 500 miles nearer the Fascists, was to hold the Italian fleet in play while he, with his heavier ships attempted to cut the line of their retreat.

Plays Part Well
The Orion played its part most capably, deceiving the greatly superior Italian vessels on a chase of several hundred miles. Meantime, the heavy British vessels plunged along a 700-mile arc in a 34-hour forced-draught run.

For the last six hours of this run they were within less than 200 miles of the Fascist vessels. At about noon on Friday Admiral Cunningham launched his hundred or more carrier-based planes with instructions to drive every Fascist scout plane from the skies.

Their success must have been complete. A single Italian air scout sighting the line of British super-dreadnaughts would have given the play away, but no such plane succeeded in penetrating the British line of air fighters. Surprise was complete, and just after midnight Friday the British battleships cut the Italian line, coming almost gun-wale to gun-wale with a squadron of 10,000-ton Fascist cruisers and blowing three of them practically out of water with salvos of 2,000-pound shells from 15-inch guns.

Meantime, carrier-based bombers and torpedo planes had crippled an Italian Littorio class dreadnaught, and light British vessels had accounted for at least two Fascist destroyers.

A victory such as this represents the acme of surprise in war. But even allowing for the better British system of air-sea organization, it is difficult to understand how Admiral Cunningham's fleet could remain more than 30 hours at sea without the Italian high command finding out about it.

The Great Game Of Politics

Roosevelt is under deep obligations to Senator Byrnes, whose selection has been urged by the Republicans as well as the Democratic Senate leaders.

Wayne Hutchinson was a caller in New Castle, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Knepp were callers in Beaver Falls, Friday.

Ruth Knepp and Florence Knepp were callers at New Castle, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Snyder, of East Palestine, O., were callers here, Thursday.

William Solto, of Zellenople, was a caller at the home of relatives here, Sunday.

Nora McLaughlin returned to her home in Youngstown after a week's visit with relatives here.

Marian McMoran returned back to Pittsburgh Sunday, after a week's visit with her parents here.

Arline Young, of Racine, is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Young.

Harry Dugas returned to his home Sunday after being confined to the Providence hospital at Beaver Falls for a week.

Mr. Lizzie Goschke and Mrs. Bianch Von Berg, of Enon Valley, were callers at the home of Mrs. Henry Young, Sunday.

IN this connection, the effort to solve the situation by having the President appoint Senator Alben Barkley, of Kentucky, to the court, and having Senator Byrnes succeed Mr. Barkley as Senate leader, seems a peculiarly unhealthy suggestion. In the first place, there is not the slightest honor for Senator Byrnes in succeeding Senator Barkley. There has not been a first-class Senate leader since the days of Oscar Underwood. As Mr. Barkley's successor, Senator Byrnes would merely be the mouthpiece of the President, deprived of whatever initiative and independence he now possesses, his sole function being to carry out White House orders. His only possible reward would be in having certain friendly journalists repetitiously refer to him as "shrewd," "able," and "astute." It hardly seems worth it. It appears an effort to kiss him away from something really worth while with something not worth a nickel.

IN the second place, the effort indicates a contempt for the Supreme Court which the bar and the people both should resent. It is a plan, for reasons of political expediency, to put on the bench an old-time politician, not because of his ability, but because he is a successful leader, because he is an unsuccessful leader. With the court already suffering in prestige because of the alleged political meddling of two of its members, to put on it a man of this type, whom no one suggests as qualified, would be further to degrade the bench. Perhaps it will succeed, but if Mr. Frankfurter has the influence with the President he is supposed to have, it would seem worth his while to use it in squelching this conceived scheme.

What's What At A Glance

these bombings were accidental, but possibly, too, they were intended as warnings to President de Valera as to what to expect unless he does as he's told to do from Berlin.

Well, Ireland's on a hot spot. It doesn't want to be Britishly re-assimilated. John Cudahy, our ex-minister to Dublin, says the Irish are 95 per cent pro-British in the current conflict. Perhaps that's so. Nevertheless the sentiment of "Oh, Erin, we must leave thee"—driven by a tyrant's hand—isn't a thing to wear off in a hurry.

But gosh! Nazi tyranny would be worse yet.

President de Valera's between horns of a fearful dilemma.

In this impasse there begin to be whispers of a trend in Ireland toward overtures to us to take the Emerald Islanders in with us, as a state or as a couple of states. Possibly as two, because they're divided between the north and south. The Rev. Father Tom Burke urged American annexation of the island 70 years ago. I began to hear him quoted again. And the other day I read a letter by a distinguished Bos-

NERVOUS FROM RESTLESS NIGHTS? Is It Your Kidneys?

Active, normal-acting kidneys and bladder expel from the blood excess acids and poisons—that's their health-giving job.

If kidneys are sluggish or not active enough, these harmful acids and poisons may stay in the blood and cause much misery and distress, and bring on ill health in this regard.

For instance, lazy kidneys may make you nervous if they cause you to lose sleep because of getting up frequently at night. Also may cause dizzy spells, backache, leg cramps or swollen ankles.

Better try a 35-cent box of GOLD MEDAL Haazlem Oil Capsules—a real kidney diuretic and stimulant that may do you a lot of good.

They have been helping people for scores of years to relieve their aches and pains when caused by lazy, sluggish kidneys.

But be sure and ask for and get Gold Medal Haazlem Oil Capsules—the genuine—pure and original. Don't be an easy mark and accept a cheap substitute. Look for the GOLD MEDAL on the box—the sign of purity—35 cents.

Americanize Ireland?
I catch an increasing volume of this sort of Irish-American talk, hyphenate talk, like German-American band talk, which contemplates the Germanization of the United States. Its thesis is the Americanization of Ireland.

"Ireland's too far away," argue opponents of the scheme.

"It's no farther away from the United States," answer its proponents, "than Canada is from England."

Speculation concerning the chance of Yankee acquisition of Canada, Australia and New Zealand is all based on the theory of an Axis victory over Britain.

Boosters for an Irish-American merger would like to see that effected no matter how the pending war ends. They think we'd harmonize with the Irish, as a state or two, and that the Irish would be glad to be invited As Father Tom Burke said, away back in the last century, "America accepts her states on terms of glorious equality."

Council also authorized the taking of bids for liquid chlorine which is required at the disposal plant.

It was also reported by Mayor Charles B. Mayne that police receipts were high for March, $1,210.80, having been realized and which will be entered as general revenue at the city treasury. There were 392 arrests and of that number 322 paid either a fine or failed to "show a forfeit." Of the 392 two hundred and ninety-seven were given tickets for parking violations.

The city of New Castle did not have to pay much money for the maintenance of prisoners in the county jail during March, only six having been sent to that place by Mayor Charles B. Mayne who is the police court magistrate. Four operators of cars were held for court for driving drunk. However, drunkenness in March was at a low ebb only 46 having been arrested for over-indulgence.

Upon recommendation of Safety Director D. O. Davies, P. J. Wimer was retained as a temporary fireman to the paid department during council meeting this morning.

Christ Promises Power

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

The Ascension.

"But ye shall receive power, when the Holy Spirit is come upon you; and ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."—Acts 1:8.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for April 6 is Luke 24:49. Acts 1:8. The Golden Text being Acts 1:8. "But ye shall receive power, when the Holy Spirit is come upon you; and ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.")

IN OUR lesson today we have a slightly different account of the ascension of Christ to heaven. It is contained in the Acts of the Apostles, also written by St. Luke. Forty days had elapsed since Jesus rose from the dead, and during this time He had been with the disciples, instructing them in their work thereafter.

"Being assembled together with them," says Luke. He commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but "wait for the promise of the Father." For John truly baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence."

"Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?" they asked Him. And He answered, "It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in His own power." They, it seems, were still expecting Him to be the Messiah for whom the Jews had been so long looking, who would restore the glory of the Jewish kingdom on earth.

Christ Leaves Them
And while He spoke these things, He was taken up, and a cloud received Him out of their sight. While the disciples looked steadily upward as their Lord disappeared from their view, they became aware of two men who stood by them, clothed all in white.
Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same himself after betraying Christ—and that they should choose someone to take his place and make them again 12 in number. They appointed two men, Joseph, called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. Then they prayed again, saying, "Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of men, shew whether of these Two Thou hast chosen."

"That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place."

Then they gave lots to see who had been chosen, and the lot fell upon Matthias, so he was numbered as the twelfth apostle.

No Stranger
Matthias was no stranger to the group. He had been associated with the Master and His followers from the first, and it must have seemed strange to him that Judas, the traitor, was chosen to be an apostle instead of him. He had loyally followed Christ, however, and now his reward had come and he was chosen as one of the inner circle or elect.

Jesus had told His disciples to wait in Jerusalem for the Holy Ghost to descend upon them, before starting out on their mission—that "repentance and remission of sins" should be preached in His name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

Power was promised these disciples from their Lord, when the Holy Ghost came upon them. "But ye shall receive power, when the Holy Ghost is come upon you; and ye shall be My witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."

Today is Palm Sunday, the time of Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem, when the people threw their cloaks in the path for His ass to tread upon, and waved palms, shouting hosannas to the Highest, "blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord."

Roll Call Group Of Chapter Meets

Analysis Of 1941 Roll Call Made At Luncheon Meeting In Chapter House

LOOK AHEAD TO DRIVE NEXT FALL

Norman E. Clark, treasurer and roll call chairman of the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross, rallied his committee chairman together at a supper in the chapter house Wednesday evening. The meeting was two-fold; to celebrate a most successful roll call and an analysis of the problems still to be worked out.

Real enthusiasm was displayed as each chairman made the analytical report of his division. The splendid spirit of cooperation and the deep seated loyalty displayed by the entire group was outstanding. Discussion of all chapter work, bulletins of chapter news and personal contact by each chairman with the chapter office keeps the roll call committee well advised. He explained that the roll call organization of the local chapter is a permanent one, and will be added to as the occasion demands, and will function not only at roll call time, but in the event of any other emergency along the lines for which they have been organized, and will have occasional meetings as the demand for such is found.

Mr. Clark presented to the entire committee the honors sent in by the national Red Cross for achievement. The Lawrence county chapter is among the leaders of the western Pennsylvania division. He paid a tribute to each chairman and to the county divisions, said he preferred not to select one group or a chairman for special mention as all had carried out an excellent job.

Mr. Clark has surrounded himself with an excellent group of committee chairman who have in turn named their committee members. The roll call set-up is:

Harold R. McCulloch, county chairman; Mrs. A. A. Shoup, Bessemer; Rev. Robert Douglas, Eastbrook; Mrs. Kathryn J. Roberts, Edenburg; Mrs. Callie Riddle, Enoch Valley; Kenneth Brennenman, Harlansville; Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Hillsville; Mrs. E. C. Wiggins and Mrs. H. A. Butler, Mt. Jackson; Charles Grunenwald, New Bedford; Mrs. J. H. Johnston, Wilmington township; Mrs. Clarence McFarland and Mrs. N. E. Sampson, county chairmen, Wilmington township; Mrs. Rex Foster, Plaingrove; Donald E. Cole, Princeton; Fred Taylor, Jr., Pulaski; Rev. A. W. Smith, Rose Point; M. B. Hogue, Slippery Rock township; Mrs. H. S. Kirk, Neshannock township; H. W. Marshall, Wampum, and Mrs. Gerald Zeve, co-chairmen; Bertram Davis, West Pittsburg; Mrs. Bertha Smith, Carleton; Mrs. Robert McGruy, Volant; Mrs. A. Crawford Hoyt, advanced girls; Mrs. Harry L. Lake Erie Limestone Co. to New Castle Lime and Stone Co., Mahoning twp., $1.
Alice H. Langdon to Bennett W. Langdon, Neshannock township, $1.
Pittsburgh Company to Emery J. Miloser, Ellport, $3300.

In the month of March, $10,494.42 was spent from the Institutional Fund, according to a compilation of disbursements by County Controller Frank W. Hill. This included all moneys spent by the county for administration, the county home, county farm, care of insane, outdoor relief, and miscellaneous expenditures.

General administration cost $453.38 which includes the salaries of the director and clerks, and incidental expenses such as telephone, printing and stationery, travelling expense, equipment and films lens. The county home cost $2316.89, this amount including salaries, postage and stationery, telephone, bread, groceries, meat, milk, tobacco, drugs, clothing, beds and bedding, utility services, and incidentals. The county farm cost $151.12. The cost of care for insane residents of the county amounted to $6475.91. Of this amount $4296.58 went to Dixmont, $84 to Fawcett, $90 to Laurelton, $38.57 to Mercer county home, $907.60 to Dorrance, $216.43 to Warren, $60 to Wernersville, $43.50 was spent for lunacy commissions and $766.33 to Polk. Outdoor relief cost $123.50. Miscellaneous expenses such as the WPA clothing project, physicians and dentists, ambulances, county physician burials, hospitals and optical expense amounted to $954.71. Out of the liquid fuel tax was spent $4317.76. Of this $112.50 was for interest on highway bonds, $425 for land damages, and the final payment on the Gardner avenue viaduct which was $3645.26.

AROUND CITY HALL

Unless one has seen the projects now under way it is hard to appreciate the work being done by WPA employees on several city-WPA projects. The north wall of Big Run has been almost completely completed between South Jefferson street and Galbreath avenue and the stream forced to the south in some places, 75 or 100 feet from its former path. While men lay huge blocks of stone for the walls other workmen operate shovels. City Engineer Glenn R. Throop pointed out yesterday that Cascade park lake ice is nine inches thick and he anticipates a lot of ice will flow through Big Run. He hopes it does not jam. The workers also are constructing a 48-inch diameter storm sewer between Jackson and Wilson avenues which will be part of the Huron avenue drainage plan. The water will drain into an open waterway in Gaston park. Speaking of the proposal to widen and pave the unwidened part of State street hill for the purpose of eliminating the curve, Throop said yesterday he does not know when the job will be started. It was first proposed as a winter-time job and men may become so scarce it may be impossible to put the improvement through.

Firemen are continuing their inspections of hazards in business houses here. It is also likely that Safety Director D. O. Davies will also have the men make an inspection of places where there are public gatherings to eliminate hazards in case of an outbreak. Davis promised such an investigation recently.

One of the shovels employed on the Big Run improvement has lost a "shoe" and it is likely that it will have to be "re-soled" in the near future to be dragged from the channel. If a flow of ice were to come down the Big Run it would probably damage the shovel. However, City Engineer Glenn R. Throop plans to have the situation cared for promptly.

Thomas Jefferson was one of the foremost exponents of freedom in the early history of this country. In seal bearing these words "Rebellion to tyrants is obedience to God." His great purpose in life was expressed in his own words, "I have sworn upon the altar of God eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man."

Most astronomers agree that our solar system in general was formed about 2½ billions of years ago.

INVADING HORDES DEFY U. S.

Without the aid of armies or navies, the invasion has managed to land on every part of the civilized world and possess the soil. It has even found its way into the famous World's Tonic. Says Mrs. J. E. Bester of 315 W. Clay St., Butler, Pa.: "My head used to get all stuffy and spots would float in front of my eyes. In the morning I was seldom able to eat breakfast and most half the day would be gone before I felt able to get around properly. But relief of constipation with World's Tonic took these resulting ailments away." Use World's Tonic for gastritis, sallow skin, fatigue and skin ailments, when due to constipation. Used for many ailments by thousands of families for over twenty years. At Eckerd's, Paisley's and all other modern Drug Stores. (J 13)

COMPLETE LIST OF THE NECESSARY ARTICLES FOR HOME MEDICINE CHEST

To the list of the recommended articles for the family medicine chest—iodine, rubbing alcohol, boracic acid powder, tannic acid powder, baking soda and mineral oil—already discussed here, we must add milk of magnesia. It is always a good thing to have around with which to give relief to an upset or sour stomach, and it is a mild laxative useful in intestinal disturbances.

Petroleum jelly is very well known as a household remedy and deserves to be in every medicine cabinet. It has a variety of uses, from aiding in the healing of wounds by keeping them soft and unirritated to sticking down the hair. It has a special value in that it is not absorbed into the body.

Another product that belongs in the medicine chest, of course, is aspirin. It is useful in treating nearly all pains and aches in the body but is dangerous if used to excess. Some persons are definitely allergic to it. For these people, the doctor will recommend a substitute for your medicine chest.

There are some other drugs commonly found in home medicine chests that I do not recommend for general use. An example is aromatic spirits of ammonia. It is not as necessary an item as any of the products mentioned above, though it does have some value in treatment of an upset stomach when taken ten to fifteen drops in a half a glass of hot water. Its value deteriorates when it is kept very long and it should be thrown out and replaced at intervals.

Ipecac isn't a necessity in my medicine chest and I do not recommend its indiscriminate use to induce vomiting. It can also be used in small amounts to relieve coughing.

Of course every medicine cabinet should have a hot water bottle with syringe attachments. It is unnecessary to dwell on the uses the hot water bottle can be put to, not the least of which is the enema which I often recommend in preference to medicine when a patient is constipated.

Besides drugs and the indispensable thermometers, there should be the mechanical equipment needed to take care of all wounds and injuries. This includes absorbent cotton, adhesive tape, sterile gauze dressing, gauze bandages, a good pair of scissors, a pair of tweezers and a bulb syringe.

Put all these things together, and keep them renewed at intervals, and you have a good family medicine chest.

Enjoy, But Don't Pick Wild Flowers Plea Is Broadcast

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, April 3.—State forests during the early spring months contain more than 2,000 species of flowering plants and shrubs, some of which are the choicest specimens growing within the state. J. R. Williams, director of the bureau of parks in the Department of Forests and Waters, said today.

Williams says everyone should learn to know the wild flowers which should be protected so that these flowers may be admired and enjoyed and at the same time be left for the enjoyment of others.

A popular tendency throughout the state is to create wild flower gardens but to grow the plants at home, a close approximation of the conditions under which they thrive naturally is considered best," Williams said.

The majority of wild flowers require some shade, although there are exceptions of which the Virginia bluebell is an example. It is possible for collectors of wild flowers to purchase some of the plants from private nurseries. Broadcasting or annual scattering of seed, even in prepared garden beds, is not recommended since very few, if any, will germinate.

"When this method is used the best way to sow wild flower seeds is to place them in paper pots filled with rich soil. After the seeds have germinated these pots can be placed in the ground without disturbing the roots. When it is desired to transplant wild flowers in new locations, plants with bulbs or fleshy roots are the easiest to move. The bulbs should be lifted in the summer or fall after the foliage has dried.

"Numerous wild flowers will bloom during the first spring after the seed is planted. A few of these are the hepatica, shooting star, May apple, golden racoon and Dutchman's breeches. Two or more years are required by some plants to bring forth their first blooms. Squirrelocorn, which closely resembles Dutchman's breeches, will generally bloom the second year. Flowers of the trillium make their first appearance after two or three years and the bloodroot requires three years before the blooms appear. The dogtooth violet, or yellow adder's tongue, which belongs to the lily family and is not a true violet, requires seven years to form a flowering bulb.

"Some of Pennsylvania's rarest flowers may occasionally be found in rather large quantities which may lead one to think that there is no danger of extermination. Picking, if at all, should be done sparingly.

"The Department of Forests and Waters invites the public to visit the state forests when the spring wild flowers are in bloom, but urges that visitors be particularly careful with fire as the danger of forest fires during the months of April and May is greater than at any time during the year.

"The department is cooperating with garden clubs and nature lovers to save the wild flowers.

"Enjoy, but do not destroy wild flowers."

Williams said.

The last of the Friday afternoon Lenten services for all, but especially planned for children and young people, with the story address on "Life Among Christian Leaders in Modern China" will be held at 4:30 p.m. the junior choir singing, with Mrs. W. A. McNally at the organ.

On Good Friday, the service for children and young people is at 9:30 a.m. in Trinity church.

Dedications At St. Andrew's On Sunday, April 13

St. Andrew's Episcopal church announces that at the choral celebration of the holy communion at 8 a. m. on Easter day, April 13, the following thank offerings and memorials will be dedicated and blessed by the pastor, Rev. Charles J. Burton: a silver altar cross, a lectern Bible, a clergy prayer desk, a fair linen altar cloth, a greenburse and veil, set of Bible marker ribbons, set of Missal marker ribbons, Bible for the pulpit, chancel prayer book and hymnal, set of altar kneeling cushions, and a set of small ribbon markers for the prayer book and hymnal. These gifts have been given by various members of the church in thanksgiving for blessings received and in memorial of departed loved ones.

Tentative plans are in the making for repairs to the fabric of the church and for the purchase of a new organ.

Bishop John C. Ward, D. D., will visit St. Andrew's church on Trinity Sunday for his annual visitation, and for the purpose of administering the rite of confirmation. Trinity is also the anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. Charles J. Burton which will also be observed.

Your Pre-School Child

This introduces a series of short "health" articles directed toward the parents of every child of pre-school age, and more especially toward those parents whose children are anticipating entering our public schools this year.

These articles will emanate from the medical department of the New Castle public schools through the superintendent of schools and will have been approved by the Lawrence County Medical society before publication.

Their purpose is to emphasize to you as parents the actual importance of preparing your children physically to meet the school environment. The active responsibility is yours, yet with the trained hand of your physician guiding your activities you will find usually that meeting this responsibility becomes a relatively uncomplicated procedure.

Perhaps the necessity for all this can more readily be perceived by this one statement of fact: In a survey conducted seven years ago which included the physical examination of about four-fifths of our local children of immediate pre-school age, almost one-half of them were found to have defects requiring medical or dental observation or treatment. And since that time—our statistics reveal—conditions have not improved.

In which 50 per cent does your child belong? Without competent examination your answer must necessarily be merely a supposition.

Most of us, before starting out on a long trip by auto, will have it placed in good mechanical condition and thoroughly checked and serviced. This is as it should be. But certainly your child needs and deserves similar consideration. Visit your physician and dentist with your child before sending him or her to begin the long journey through school.

Injuries In Auto Crash Prove Fatal To James D. Wright

New Castle Young Man Dies In Hospital At Grove City
Last Night

Injuries received in an auto collision on Friday evening, March 28, at about 7:15 o'clock, resulted in the death of James D. Wright, aged 31, of 912 Clarence avenue, this city. Mr. Wright passed away in the Beshline-Rossmann hospital, Grove City, Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Wright received fractures of the skull, nose and ribs on March 28 when his car collided with a truck on the Slippery Rock road, one mile from Grove City.

Born in Rose Point, Lawrence county, on September 27, 1909, he was a son of James and Mabel Eppinger Wright. He formerly resided in Harlansburg where he graduated from Harlansburg high school. After his graduation he was employed continuously as a mechanic by the Jordan Motor company, formerly of Harlansburg and now of Grove City.

Wright had a host of friends in New Castle, Harlansburg and Grove city, being well and favorably known in this vicinity. He was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles of New Castle and the Unity Baptist church of Harlansburg.

Eppinger of Harlansburg. The body has been removed to the Cunningham funeral home, Grove City, and will be taken this evening at 6 o'clock to the home of Jacob McCracken, one mile south of Harlansburg on the Perry highway. Funeral services will be held from the McCracken home Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. C. R. Thayer, pastor of the Third U. P. church of New Castle, and Rev. Leonard Mathieson of Harlansburg in charge. Interment will be in the Harlansburg Baptist church cemetery.

The Censor, He Just Won't Talk

Lions club members and their wives are going to a party Friday night—but they have no idea where! Late tomorrow afternoon a messenger will deliver to all Lions homes a formal invitation announcing the place. Even so, they'll still be in the dark as to what kind of a shindig they're going to.

The cloak of secrecy covers all plans for what has been billed as a "Tail Twisters' Party"—the club censor did let that pass. But nothing more. The tail twisters are Lion officers, and they're up to something.

The Lions don't know much about it, but they're going to a party—they know that.

Boston Bees Are Showing Hustle

Addition Of Babe Dahlgren At First Base Will Give Bees Fine Infield

Have Fair Pitching Staff. Casey Stengel Is Satisfied. Earl Averill Signed Up

By GRAHAM HOVEY

(International News Service Sports Writer)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., April 3

—Sure, I've got a good ball club—a young, hustling ball club—but how do I know that each of the seven other guys in the league hasn't got one too?

It was Casey Stengel, the keeper of the Boston Bees, talking. Casey was handing out tips before his team tackled the St. Louis Browns in an exhibition battle.

As usual, it will all depend on the pitching—and you can say the same for any club in either league," said Casey. "The rest of my team ought to do all right."

Good Infield

The Bee infield should be better than "all right". Babe Dahlgren is at first, Bama Rowell at second, Eddie Miller at short and Sebastian Sisti at third. Stengel admits he is happy after the deal which brought Dahlgren from the New York Yankees, and he calls Miller "one of the best shortstops in baseball."

Buddy Hassett will be ready to step in if anything should happen to Dahlgren at first, leaving Max West free to work full-time in the outfield. Stengel has two first year men—Henry Majeski, who hit .323 for Newark last season, and Ralph Younker, up from Hartford—who have been impressive in early drills for infield reserve duty. Also big Louis Grempp, up from York, has been working at first and third, and Albin Glosop and Whitey Wietelmann are holdovers reserves from last year who may help out.

Sophomore Chief Ross is a pinch at one outfield post and Stengel expects him to improve considerably on his .281 hitting mark for the 1940 season. Gene Moore probably will start at one of the other outfield posts and West possibly will replace ancient Johnny Cooney in center field. Earl Averill, picked up from Detroit over the winter, also will see some outfield service, and Rookies Clarence Bray, Don Manno, Mel Preblich and Claude Wilborn are competing for the right to stay with the club.

Berres Fine Catcher

Catcher Ray Berres can't hit, but Stengel rates him at the top as a receiver. The squad is light on capable replacements behind the bat but Phil Masi will probably hold the No. 2 spot for which Sophomore Stan Andrews and Rookie Ted Broskie also are competing.

Stengel guesses that his array of starting pitchers will include Manny Salvo, Jim Tobin, Bill Posedel and Dick Erickson, who did the bulk of the hurling during the last two months of the 1940 campaign, when the Bees finished seventh.

Fair Pitching

Lefty Joe Sullivan and Nick Strincevich, 1940 holdovers, will probably see a lot of action in relief roles and the veteran Wes Ferrell may be able to coax a win or two out of his aging arm.

Of the rookies, Stengel believes Frank Lamanna, Alva Javery, Tom Earley and George Barnicle have the best chance to stay with the squad, although Lefty Art Johnson, Joe Rucido and Ed Carnett are still in the running.

"Sure, this gang ought to start out better this season—but how do I know they can keep it up for five and a half months," he asked.

The hustling Bees believe they know the answer to that one—they're sure they can.

Fishing Club

Plan To Dine

Members of the Pennsylvania Fishing club will hold their forty-fifth annual dinner-meeting and election of officers at Oakhurst on the New Wilmington road Monday night, April 6, at 6:30 o'clock.

Following the serving of dinner, the next hour will be taken up by the election of officers. Plans for the summer camp to open in July at Sans Souci Sound in Georgian Bay, Canada, will be discussed.

The Pennsylvania club is one of the oldest if not the oldest in the entire state. Thomas H. "Tommy" Hitchcock, president of the club for the past two years will preside over the meeting and election of officers, which was announced today by Karl Rohrer, secretary of the club.

"Y" Quintets To Banquet Tonight

Church And House League Champions Will Be Honored At Dinner, Coach Washabaugh Speaker

Tonight is the night of nights for the Church and House league basketball champions at the "Y." At 6:15 o'clock the players of the various championship teams will sit down to dinner in the banquet hall with Coach Grover C. Washabaugh of the Westminster college basketball team as the principal speaker.

Upwards of 75 or 80 young basketball stars will participate. The dinner is to honor the championship St. Vitus team in the Class AA loop, the St. George Greek team champions of the Class A league, the First U. P. team, the junior league champs, and the Celtics, the House League winners.

Toastmaster for the occasion will be Rev. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church, who has been associated with the church basketball league for the past 14 years. The banquet was arranged by Bill Winter, supervisor of the church leagues and physical director of the "Y."

Barlund and Conn wound up their training preparations today with light workouts. Barlund probably will weigh around 195 pounds tomorrow night, while Conn is expected to weigh about 182.

One Chicago betting commission today was making Conn a 15 to 1 favorite, but those odds are expected to undergo a sharp revision before any wagers are taken. If he is right, Barlund can cause any fighter considerable trouble. He knocked out Buddy Baer in seven rounds and he holds a decision over Tony Musto, who fights Joe Louis next Tuesday night in St. Louis.

Big League Teams

GET LOTS OF RAIN

Big league team training in California this spring didn't get too much practice.

Ole Jupiter Pluvius turned on the spigots more than he ever did in 48 years, according to the California weather bureau.

The American Association of ice hockey probably will expand next year to include Dallas and Fort Worth in Texas. The circuit already extends south to Tulsa, Okla.

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)

AUGUSTA, NATIONAL CLUB, Augusta, Ga., April 3—The top prize is $1,500, the defending champion is Texas Jimmy Demaret, for the course is 72 and the field is made up of a select few who earned their place in the event on past performances.

Those are the vital statistics on the eighth annual masters golf championship which began its four-day march today over the pine-clad, red clay hills of this dream course.

The favorites as the opening shots rolled away were Sam Snead, the perennial threat who can't quite make it, and Byron Nelson, the cold national professional champion, with Ben Hogan, the current leading money-winner. Lawson Little, national open champion, and Demaret all close behind in the free and easy waning characteristic of all sports events down in the Southland.

Bobby Jones Entered

Bobby Jones, builder of this course in consummation of an ideal that stands as one of the great layouts in the world, headed the list of notables entered, this being his one annual appearance in competition. Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour, Al Watrous, and other holdovers from the golden age were in the field, too, but most of these received only the attention inspired by sentiment, in the cold, hard, factual calculations it was the latter day stars who took and held the center of interest as the 49 entrants started the parade from the first tee, led by an initial two-some composed of Hagen and Francis Ouimet.

None could overlook the 68's shot by Little and Demaret in their last practice rounds yesterday, nor the 69's turned in by Hogan and Ben Chapman, the national amateur champion. Snead couldn't do better than 75, but a little better putting will correct that.

From among the favorites almost undoubtedly will come the winner, for they are picked strictly on what they can do on a course such as this in medal play. The schedule calls for 18 holes a day from today through Sunday, the low aggregate score to determine the winner.

Runyan Injured

All of the previous winners except Henry Picard and all of America's other outstanding golfers except Paul Runyan were on hand. Both of these were deprived of participating because of illness, Runyan having cracked up in an automobile en route.

Horton Smith, winner of the first masters tournament in 1934 and the only two-time winner, and Sarazen, Nelson, Ralph Guldahl and Demaret, who have carried off this title at one time or another, all are back.

In addition to previously mentioned potential winners, others well liked by many are Guldahl and Craig Wood, with the shadow of Snead hovering over the premises all the while. He has won three tournaments on the annual golfing trek and may stay hot here.

In any case, they've got a specially designed 6,800-yard course stretching before them from today through Sunday, in one of this country's greatest sports events, and the winner very easily could be somebody that the odds makers haven't even considered.

Conn And Louis Bout In Chicago Is Possibility

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 3.—A chance that the scheduled fight between Joe Louis and Billy Conn may be brought to Chicago today apparently rested on one important item—the size of the crowd that turns out tomorrow night in the Chicago stadium to witness Conn's 12-round bout with Gunnar Barlund, Finnish heavyweight.

Mike Jacobs came to Chicago to discuss the probability of bringing the bout to Chicago with Sheldon Clark, new chairman of the Illinois boxing commission. During the meeting between Jacobs and Clark, the New York boxing czar said he was confident that the Conn-Louis bout would draw a bigger gate in Chicago than in New York.

Barlund and Conn wound up their training preparations today with light workouts. Barlund probably will weigh around 195 pounds tomorrow night, while Conn is expected to weigh about 182.

One Chicago betting commission today was making Conn a 15 to 1 favorite, but those odds are expected to undergo a sharp revision before any wagers are taken. If he is right, Barlund can cause any fighter considerable trouble. He knocked out Buddy Baer in seven rounds and he holds a decision over Tony Musto, who fights Joe Louis next Tuesday night in St. Louis.

Big League Teams

GET LOTS OF RAIN

Big league team training in California this spring didn't get too much practice.

Ole Jupiter Pluvius turned on the spigots more than he ever did in 48 years, according to the California weather bureau.

The American Association of ice hockey probably will expand next year to include Dallas and Fort Worth in Texas. The circuit already extends south to Tulsa, Okla.

AUGUSTA, NATIONAL CLUB, Augusta, Ga., April 3—The top prize is $1,500, the defending champion is Texas Jimmy Demaret, for the course is 72 and the field is made up of a select few who earned their place in the event on past performances.

Those are the vital statistics on the eighth annual masters golf championship which began its four-day march today over the pine-clad, red clay hills of this dream course.

The favorites as the opening shots rolled away were Sam Snead, the perennial threat who can't quite make it, and Byron Nelson, the cold national professional champion, with Ben Hogan, the current leading money-winner. Lawson Little, national open champion, and Demaret all close behind in the free and easy waning characteristic of all sports events down in the Southland.

Bobby Jones Entered

Bobby Jones, builder of this course in consummation of an ideal that stands as one of the great layouts in the world, headed the list of notables entered, this being his one annual appearance in competition. Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour, Al Watrous, and other holdovers from the golden age were in the field, too, but most of these received only the attention inspired by sentiment, in the cold, hard, factual calculations it was the latter day stars who took and held the center of interest as the 49 entrants started the parade from the first tee, led by an initial two-some composed of Hagen and Francis Ouimet.

None could overlook the 68's shot by Little and Demaret in their last practice rounds yesterday, nor the 69's turned in by Hogan and Ben Chapman, the national amateur champion. Snead couldn't do better than 75, but a little better putting will correct that.

From among the favorites almost undoubtedly will come the winner, for they are picked strictly on what they can do on a course such as this in medal play. The schedule calls for 18 holes a day from today through Sunday, the low aggregate score to determine the winner.

Runyan Injured

All of the previous winners except Henry Picard and all of America's other outstanding golfers except Paul Runyan were on hand. Both of these were deprived of participating because of illness, Runyan having cracked up in an automobile en route.

Horton Smith, winner of the first masters tournament in 1934 and the only two-time winner, and Sarazen, Nelson, Ralph Guldahl and Demaret, who have carried off this title at one time or another, all are back.

In addition to previously mentioned potential winners, others well liked by many are Guldahl and Craig Wood, with the shadow of Snead hovering over the premises all the while. He has won three tournaments on the annual golfing trek and may stay hot here.

In any case, they've got a specially designed 6,800-yard course stretching before them from today through Sunday, in one of this country's greatest sports events, and the winner very easily could be somebody that the odds makers haven't even considered.

Walmo Dog Wins Top-Class Honor

'Kitty's Major White,' Williams Entry, Gets Championship

"Kitty's Major White," prize-winning bird dog owned by Joseph C. Williams, Walmo dog fancier, today moved into dogdom fame by winning a national championship on ruffed grouse in trials in Forest County.

Williams, whose entries in many competitions have brought honors here, handled the dog Tuesday in competition with professional handlers from five states. "Kitty's Major White," two years and nine months old, was raised and trained by Williams himself.

Others at the trials near Marineville included Dr. Lynn A. Wygant and "Bud" Kay, of this city. Events began Sunday.

Baer And Nova

End Training

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 3—Maxie Baer and Lou Nova today put final touches on their training in preparation for tomorrow night's 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Baer, who scaled in at 220, wound up with a light workout at Lakeview, N. J., while Nova galloped around the bridge paths of New York's Central Park.

Betting, which saw Nova tabbed as a 7 to 5 choice, has by far exceeded that of their June, 1939, scrap when Max, then an overwhelming favorite, was stopped by Nova in the 11th round.

Baer and his pilot, Ancil Hoffman, have pooled $1,000 which they have placed at 3 to 1 that Max registers a knockout. Max stopped Tony Galento and Pat Comiskey in his last two starts.

Grover Washabaugh To Be Main Speaker

Grover C. Washabaugh, head coach of athletics at Westminster college, will be the principal speaker at the testimonial dinner to the city-county championship basketball team, the Polish Falcons, on April 27, it was announced today.

The dinner will be quite an elaborate affair it was said. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh of the New Castle High school, who taught most of the Falcon players their ABC's in basketball when they were high school students, will be a guest and a number of members of the official life of the city and county will be present.

BROWNS LOADED WITH YOUNG TALENT

There are few teams in the majors over loaded with young talent. The St. Louis Browns fall in this category, however. The Missourians, for instance, have Pete Kraus, a fine looking gardener, who smashes a fine long ball. But, he'll have to do more farm work for he can't win a post against such stellar performers as Walter Judnich, Rip Radcliff, Roy Cullenbine, Myril Hoag, Chet Laabs and Bob Estalella.

ROOT NEEDS 7 WINS TO REACH 200 MARK

Old Charley Root, hanging on with the Chicago Cubs, needs seven more pitching triumphs to reach the 200 mark.

Root, who is 42 years old, has been tossing horse hides in the big tent for 15 years.

Rifle Club To Shoot Tonight

The New Castle Rifle club will have a grocery shoot at the Cathedral range tonight at 7 o'clock. It was announced by Secretary Ray Hammond. The event will be opened to the public.

There will be plenty of prizes such as hams, bags of groceries, etc., to be won on luck and skill targets. The club is also staging another event that will prove interesting, involving a considerable sum of money.

The New Castle club will go to McDonald for a Penn-Ohio league shoot on Friday night at 7 o'clock, the members to meet at the corner of Grant and Jefferson street.

Chicago Cubs Will Fight For Pennant

New Manager Jimmy Wilson Has Instilled Fight In Cubs For 1941 Season

Has Two Fine Rookies In Stringer And Novikoff, Lot Depends On Veteran Hurlers

BY LASKELLE YOUNG

(International News Service Sports Writer) ONTARIO, Calif., April 3—Jimmy Wilson, the new manager of the Chicago Cubs, not being a man who deals in superlatives, today is basically confident the Cubs are going to be a definite improvement over their 1940 showing.

First division? Yes, definitely! Fighting for the pennant? Possibly.

Wilson's reasoning is quite simple. He figures that in you Novikoff, the greatest slugger ever to come up from the minor leagues, Bill Nicholson and Hank Luehr, he'll have better than a 300 hitting trio in the outfield. In reserve he'll have Dominic Dallesandro, Augie Galan and Phil Cavaretta with young Bernie Olsen, up from Tulsa, trying to break in.

The Cub infield isn't exactly shabby. On the basis of records Stan Hack was the No. 1 third baseman last season in the league and Captain Billy Herman copped similar honors at second. That gives Wilson top hands for one half of the Cub infield.

"Billy Myers is a great team man, and an ace shortstop defensively. Myers won't hit but he'll fill a big hole that has bothered the Cubs for several years," said Wilson.

Two Good Rookies
And to give Herman more hustle, Wilson will have 21-year-old Louie Stringer on the heels. Stringer, along with Novikoff, was sold by Los Angeles to the Cubs for a reported $150,000.

"With almost any other club, he'd be a regular and a star—a great star. But I don't like to see a highly publicized rookie like Stringer, especially an infielder, break in over night. It puts too much pressure on him. It's much better to work him in gradually," says Wilson.

And that may be the tip-off that Stringer will be the regular custodian of second before the season gets too far along.

First base, Wilson tells you frankly, is a big question mark. "Rip" Russell, a fair fielder who hasn't hit any too well, will get first call. Harvey Storey, who pounded coast league pitching in 1939 at a .350 clip as a shortstop but who broke his leg early last season with the Seals, may be given a chance at first if Russell fails.

For reserve infield strength, Wilson has the veteran Harold Warlick, Lem Merullo, and Bobby Sturgeon. As to catching, Wilson names Al Todd as No. 1 man. Clyde McCullough, who hit .324 with Buffalo last year, looks like the No. 2 man with Charlie George from Nashville likely to grab the third job.

Wilson said "if I were only sure what our pitchers would stand up under a pennant drive I might stick my neck out and say that we might be battling somebody for a spot at the top."

Good Pitchers
He is dubious over the whole staff with the exception of young

Vern Olsen and Claude Passeau. He expects them to be front line pitchers and is hopeful big Bill Lee will return to 1938 form.

Larry French, who won 14 and lost 14 last year, is another guy Wilson is pulling for, and also, of course, Kenneth Raffensberger, who lost 9 and won 7.

As for old Dizzy Dean, one guess is as good as another, although owner P. K. Wrigley is gambling a salary stipend of $10,000 the former Great One will hit the comeback trail. Clay Bryant is another sore arm hurler of last year.

Vance Page, Jake Mooty and the veteran Charlie Root complete the doubtful pitching list although a youngster, Paul Erickson from Tulsa, may make the grade.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Quite a shift in professional football has been arranged, according to reports from Pittsburgh. Alexis Thompson, who purchased the Pittsburgh team from Art Rooney, will move his club to Philadelphia and Rooney, who joined with Bert Bell in the ownership of the Philadelphia team, will move the Philadelphia outfit to Pittsburgh. The league officials are expected to ratify the shift.

With a $3,600 top charge, the Gunner Barlund vs Billy Conn fight, scheduled for Chicago, Friday night, is expected to draw $40,000, which is no bagatelle. Whitney Martin, a New York sports scribe, has selected Lou Nova as the winner over Max Baer tomorrow night in New York. Nova won a previous fight.

Fritz Zivic, welterweight champion, has been suspended in Pennsylvania for refusal to honor a contract to box Phil Furr of Washington, in Philadelphia, April 21.

The WPAL will inaugurate the baseball season on April 21 with 53 schools enrolled. New Castle is not enrolled. Victor Emanuel's Omission, a 3-three-year colt eligible for the Kentucky Derby, won the $5,000-added Rowe Memorial handicapped at Bowie yesterday. The next fight here will be staged April 28 and the New Castle General Fire department will have a hand in the promotion and cut in on the receipts.

Jack Dunlevy, president of the Butler Yankees, underwent an operation in the Jameson Memorial hospital yesterday and was reportedly resting as comfortable as possible today, according to reports. Dunlevy is well known here, having been the principal spokesman at the 1940 and 1941 banquets of the Lawrence County Baseball league. It may be a few days before he can receive visitors. However, in the meanwhile it is hoped baseball players drop him a postcard of good cheer to the hospital.

SEATS SOLD
Southpaw Tom Seats, purchased by the Detroit Tigers in 1939, has been sold to San Francisco of the Pacific Coast league. Seats won two and lost two for the Bengals last season.

Horne Loses In Boston Ring

Wins Semi-Final, Drops Final Bout, Bivins Defeats Knox

George (Sonny) Horne, Niles high school amateur fighter, who is a popular performer here, lost to Dave Andrews, Lowell, Mass., in the final bout, 147-pound class, last night in the A. A. U. boxing tournament in Boston. He fought twice. In the semi-final he won from Robert Larkin of New York only to drop the decision in the crucial bout to Andrews. Shelton, Bell, Youngstown, who also boxes here, was a winner.

The other A. A. U. champions: 112 pounds—Lawrence Torpy of Philadelphia defeated Harold Dade, Chicago.

118 pounds—Ray Brown, Chicago, technically kayaked Tony Degregorio, Boston, first round.

126 pounds—Frank Leonard of Taunton, Mass., defeated Carl Palombo, Amsterdam, N. Y.

135 pounds—Tommy Moyer, Portland, Ore., defeated Gus Stanford, Seminole, Okla.

160 pounds—James Mulligan of Lowell, Mass., defeated John Lawler, Cleveland.

175 pounds—Shelton Bell, Wilberforce university, Xenia, O., defeated James Reddick, St. Louis.

Heavyweight—Ragan Kinney of Hartmon, Ark., defeated Al Jordan, Kansas City.

In the professional ring in Cleveland, Jimmy Bivins, Cleveland, defeated Buddy Knox of Dayton in 10 rounds. Many of the fans did not take kindly to the decision. Maxie Berger stopped Irish Eddie Dunne in the fifth round.

New Improvements For Castle Hills

Improvements costing in the neighborhood of $2,000 are being made at the Castle Hills clubhouse, it was announced today by Manager Larry Gramling.

The improvements consist of an addition to the clubhouse on the east side of the present 25 feet by 32 feet for locker rooms, shower baths and a roof garden. The ground has just been broken for the work, which will take several weeks to complete, but when finished will give the golf course a very splendid clubhouse, modern and up-to-date.

Also it was announced that new bridges are being built on the No. 10 fairway, and that work of rolling the spacious greens has already commenced, however, it will be at least a week yet until the second nine will be ready for play, due to the dampness of the fairways from the long winter months.

Softball Teams To Meet Saturday

Rocco P. Viggiano, president of the Class A City Softball league has called the first meeting of the year for the "Y" Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock.

The following teams are to send managers to the meeting, Radiators, Johnson Bronze, Sons of Italy, Lingerie, Willow Grove, Gus, Valentinos, Columbus A. C. National Pants and Shenango Pottery.

The Class A league will not be affiliated with the City Softball association this season, it was announced.

Photographs of the various champions in the recent Fourth Annual City-County basketball tournament are being prominently displayed at the Seaview studio on East Washington street, and are attracting quite a lot of attention. There are group pictures as well as individual pictures of the champions.

Inland Empire ski fans have been using a new lift on Mount Spokane, in Washington state. They paid ten cents a ride to be pulled up by a motor-run trolley. The new lift is 1,400 feet long, with a vertical lift of 500 feet. Skiers grasp a rope and are pulled up the hill.

What's new in the sports world today?

After being flat on his back for six months with a rare infection, Dr. Frank Viggiano is back in town, recuperating in his brother's home, Rocco Viggiano, Lawrence avenue. While serving as an interne in McKeesport General hospital, the former basketball star and a graduate of Geneva and Temple, was stricken by the malady. After regaining his health, the medico will return to McKeesport to resume duties.

Four Lawrence Countians will don their fistic regalia for amateur scraps in McKeesport tonight. "Chuck" Arkett will tangle leather at Billy Garrett, who has fought here, Tony Arkett hopes to take the measure of a one Benito Couture; Billy Reale is booked to fight Charlie Riggs and Mickey Cortez squares off against Joe Dudek. The quartet feels confident of making a clean sweep.

Ross Bridenbaugh, son of the local school coach will tangle Franklin and Marshall College's colors in the high hurdles and in the quarter-mile events this season. Coach Tom Floyd announced today. Ross participated in the same two events during the last cinder burning campaign. It might be news to some members of the circle to know that the "Huron" tutor attended the Lancaster school.

Fred Perry, famous English tennis champ, a few seasons back, is tugging the Washington and Lee racket welders this spring. Bimelch did all right for his owner. The big boss ran in 15 races, earning $248,745, which should buy plenty of timothy. Churchill Downs, home of the Kentucky Derby, first opened its gates in 1875. In 65 Derbies, 667 horses have trotted to the post.

Present Comedy At Union High

Large Crowd Sees Excellent
Performance At School
Wednesday Night

TWENTY-FIVE HAVE PART IN PROGRAM

There were 25 members of the junior and senior classes of Union Township High school cast in the three-act comedy, "Shirt Sleeves," presented before a large audience in the school auditorium, Wednesday evening.

Every member of the cast presented a fine performance. The story concerned the snooty Rand family, bred in tradition and high ideals and caring little for those of lower station in life.

In "Crash Times" the play shows the rapid decline of the Rands from the high social standing to a place near disgrace when their fortune is wiped out and they are forced to sell their furniture to pay off a mortgage on their home.

Julia Rand, mother of the family, played by Wilda Montgomery, promptly packs a trunk and leaves with the children for Aunt Mary's, stating that she cannot remain and face the disgrace.

After the public sale is held and money is secured to pay off the debt on the home, Richard Crandall, played by Joe Mitchell, who is a shrewd business man and crooked politician, offers Franklin Rand, father of the family, played by Bernard Kiehl, a good position as his assistant on the employment commission.

Donald Rand, played by Paul Daugherty, is the black sheep of the family and he adds to the family's concern by marrying the daughter of a bootlegger, Margie Scanlon, played by Norene Buchanan. She comes to the family's rescue however, by disclosing Richard Crandall for what he is.

Rather than face disgrace, Crandall resigns his position as head of the employment commission and offers the job to Mr. Rand. This brings about a solution to the plot and with the return of Mrs. Rand to stand by her husband through thick and thin, a happy ending is brought to the production.

Following faculty committees aided in making the play a success: Milton E. Pattison and Don McGrew, directors; Miss Sally McKee, ticket sales; Robert Cowher, usher committee; Dorothy McGraw, program committee; Joseph Thompson, stage manager and Thomas Salisbury was in charge of advertising.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
